Welcome to the Church of Christ

Romans 5:1-11 Therefore, since we have been justified through faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, ² through whom we have gained access by faith into this grace in which we now stand. And we boast in the hope of the glory of God. ³ Not only so, but we also glory in our sufferings, because we know that suffering produces perseverance; ⁴ perseverance, character; and character, hope. ⁵ And hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit, who has been given to us. ⁶ You see, at just the right time, when we were still powerless, Christ died for the ungodly. ⁷ Very rarely will anyone die for a righteous person, though for a good person someone might possibly dare to die. ⁸ But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us. ⁹ Since we have now been justified by his blood, how much more shall we be saved from God's wrath through him! ¹⁰ For if, while we were God's enemies, we were reconciled to him through the death of his Son, how much more, having been reconciled, shall we be saved through his life! ¹¹ Not only is this so, but we also boast in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation.

Thank you:

A huge thank you to all who attended our gathering at YBC for Thanksgiving. We had 18 for lunch on Thursday and many hours to games, laughter (Here is the king!), leaf and pine needle raking, remodeling of a room in the nurse's cabin, bike riding, eating, meeting and making new friends etc. To all who helped prepare food for the four days – great and many thanks. Thank you to all who helped up clean up to check out on Saturday morning. We finished in a record of 1 ½ hours with everyone's help. We hope that more will join us next year!

Give thanks to the Lord for he is good!
His faithful love
endures forever." –
Psalm 118:29

Why Be a Christian?

Once there was a man who decided he would use a peculiar way to decide whether or not to become a Christian. He would write down on one side of a sheet of paper all the reasons "For" and all the reasons "Against" on the other side.

His fingers fairly flew as he wrote the reasons "For", then on the opposite side he came to the reasons against; at the top of the page he wrote the figure (1), then stopped suddenly and abruptly. He could not think of a single reasoning "against" his becoming a Christian. And neither can anyone else!

On A Daily Basis

A man, asked recently to describe memories of his college days twenty-five years ago, replied, "A few big moments; many goofs, but, overall, pleasant memories." Would these words not describe our memories of life generally? As we recall our years, there are always the "big" moments, the emotional "highs," that we love to relish. Then there are the "goofs," the embarrassing occasions that just keep coming back to haunt us. But, through it all, the pleasant memories sufficiently prevail to enable us to feel generally good about life. But, in reality, success or failure in life is not determined by the "big moments" or "the goofs." We will not be eternally saved on the basis of a few great spiritual achievements or eternally lost on the basis of a few gross mistakes (assuming they have been repented of). Life consists of everyday actions and decisions, and it is these that bring ultimate success or failure, eternal happiness or eternal damnation. "If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me" (Luke 9:23). It is one thing to express concern for our children as we talk of their future spirituality and faithfulness. It is quite another to provide on a daily basis a spiritual atmosphere in the home, a good example of godliness and faithfulness, consistent and loving discipline and a love for God and respect for fellowman that are so essential to the training of our children. It's the little impressions that are made day by day that prove to be so decisive. It is one thing to dream of someday being appointed an elder in the church. It is quite another thing to put forth the effort on a daily basis to learn the scriptures, to develop leadership ability, to grow spiritually, and to live as to gain the confidence of a discerning congregation. One does not qualify for the eldership in one big leap. It comes through daily development. It is one thing to talk a "good line" on priorities. It is quite another thing to put God first on a daily basis. The devil knows so many ways to test our resolve in these realms. Our intentions are good, but, through his subtlety, he has us selling our souls for a mess of pottage or thirty pieces of silver. It is one thing to think that we would die for the Lord if our faith were so tested. It is quite another thing truly to live for Him on a daily basis. Egos may be fed on the "big moments," but true spirituality develops through daily prayer, study and meditation. Our lesson is this. Set your goals for the future, and set them high. But recognize that it's the little, day-by-day moments, the often forgotten moments, accumulated through the years that truly shape our destiny. Tomorrow's success depends upon the choices and decisions that are made today. Make them with care.

John 14:6

Jesus answered, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me.
