As I walked along life's busy highway,
I ventured aside onto a byway.
At first it seemed like a good place to be,
Then a mountain rose up in front of me.
He showed me a road winding high above
That sometimes is steep, but guarded with love.
He said, You've the strength and courage to climb,
Be patient and take one step at a time.
Now I take His hand, and He leads the way.
With Him to guide me I never can stray.
His grace and His love are a mighty force
To keep me safe as I travel the course.
Gladly I'll walk in His light every day.
And humbly with hope in His care I'll stay.

We'll Get Through This

*Lord, our troubles are so great,
We don't know what to do;
The price for our Iniquity
Is finally coming due.*

*The world is crumbling all about,
No safe place can be found.
Right is wrong, wrong is right,
The change is quite profound.*

*Lord, we need your guiding light
To lead us out of here;
We'll focus on your Word, and prayer,
To take away our fear.*

*Temptations of this dying world
We'll rule out and let go;
Give our burdens all to you,
Shed all worldly woe.*

*That's how we'll get through this, Lord,
Fixed on heaven above,
Assured of your protection, help,
And everlasting love.*

Yours, LORD, is the greatness and the power and the glory and the majesty and the splendor, for everything in heaven and earth is yours. Yours, LORD, is the kingdom; you are exalted as head over all.

Ten Principles for a Godly living

First, develop a habit of thanking God for big and little things throughout the day. Psalm 100 tells us to enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise. Thanksgiving will help open our eyes to the work of God in our lives and in the lives of others.

Second, be patient, both with yourself and with others. You will mess up, and so will others. But our failures are not the end when God is around. As the Psalmist says, a righteous man may fall but the Lord will sustain Him (Psalm 37:23-24). The goal is a life ever closer to the God we love.

Third, pray about everything (Philippians 4:6). Pray when things go well. Pray when things are tough. Communicate with Him as you would if a friend were walking right with you. Bring Him into every aspect of your life. We change ourselves when we seek His will in every aspect of our lives. And pray for others. We change the world when we pray for the needs of others.

Fourth, trust Him. Once we pray, we often doubt because God does not audibly reply or demonstrate great signs for us. But having asked, we need to learn to trust that He has heard our prayers and He will guide our decisions and our ways. Paul did not cease praying for the church.

Fifth, look for the God-signs in life; those events where God answered prayer, or God protected you, or God sent you a nice present, or when God seems especially close to you. Celebrate those signs with praise and thanksgiving.

Sixth, spend time reading and thinking about what is in the Bible. Ask yourself questions, such as, "what does this passage teach me about God, about His character?" Memorize some passages that are especially meaningful to you. Let the Word of Christ dwell in you richly by thinking about why God would have written the words you are reading. And what does He want to teach you from these words?

Seventh, try to find other Christians who share a desire to know and love God and spend time with them on a regular basis. You may be able to find them at church, or through a Bible study, or from friends. Such fellowship is designed by Jesus to be strength to us.

Eighth, love your children. Tell them how much you love them often. And let them see your love through your patience, forbearance, and kindness to them. Seek to guide them rather than drive them in the ways of Christ. Set an example seek to love and follow Jesus. Encourage them to practice the truth of Proverbs 1:10.

Ninth, place your hope fully on Jesus. Look forward to His return to this earth, even as John did (Revelation 22:20) and Paul did (Titus 2:13). Do not hope in your own righteousness or goodness, but fully on Him (Philippians 3:9-10).

Tenth, love Jesus supremely. Take up His word and obey it. Seek first the things about Him, His will and His righteousness. Love Him with all of your heart, all of your soul, all of your mind, and all of your strength, all of the time. Do not let your love for Him grow cold, but kindle it anew with the fires of thankfulness and praise, worship and adoration and quiet times of focusing and communicating with Him.

A list of principles for godly living should never be considered as authoritative but these are some suggestions. In one of the greatest passages on getting to know God in the Scriptures, Peter writes in 2 Peter 1:2-11 that we should add to our faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge, and to knowledge self-control, and to self-control perseverance, and to perseverance godliness, and to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness – love. If these things are ours, then we will be fruitful in the knowledge of Jesus. As you practice the above ten things, I believe you will grow in the knowledge of Jesus and you will be blessed in the way He changes your life and the lives of your children. And may the Lord Jesus bless you and keep you as you seek to walk with Him.
